OUR TALLEST MAN
Jan Van Albert, 9 feet 5 inches tall, recently arrived in Chicago. Compare his size with little Lew Rose, who is only 4 feet 6 inches tall. Van Albert cannot travel in a Pullman as the beds are too short. When he goes to a hotel, two beds are put together for him to sleep on.
Bull a Drinker.
Hood River, Ore.—A bull's over-indulgence in the contents of a mash barrel, according to stories of orchardists of the Underwood (Wash.) district, led to the discovery by officers of two stills near Stevenson.
The bull, attracting attention by his drunken stagger and belched mauling, evidently was pleased with the effects of the moonshine makings.
Officers followed him as he pursued an erratic course through the underbrush. The goal of the bovine tour was a barrel half full of mash. In a hidden cabin, about 100 yards away, was discovered a still.

Veteran Served Sentence of Man Who Saved His Life
Because his "buddy" saved his life in France, Harry W. Haley, known as general prisoner No. 22102, assumed his name, and is serving a six months' sentence in the United States disciplinary barracks, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for desertion, alleged to have been committed by his friend.

EXTEND PACIFIC OIL FIELDS
Prospectors Plan Development Under Australian Mandate—Several Parties in Field.
Sydney, N. S. W.—The search for oil which has been going on with meager results for years in the large island of Papua has been extended to the portion known as German New Guinea, where it is said there are much better indications. This territory is now under Australian mandate.
Experts of the Anglo-Persian Oil company, which has an agreement with the commonwealth by which each will share in the benefits of any discovery, are prospecting thoroughly. Several private parties also are in the field.
Oil prospecting is being retarded, however, because the Australian government has not decided on a land policy for mandated territories.

"Cold in the Head"
Is an acute attack of Nasal Catarrh. These subject to frequent "colds in the head" will find that the use of MALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE will build up the system, cleanse the blood and render them less liable to colds. Repeated attacks of Acute Catarrh may lead to Chronic Catarrh. MALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. All druggists. Circulars free. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Mr. Doll Groves of Old Mines was in at this office on Wednesday last and said possum hunters had been cutting down good trees on his lands to get the game. That's an unsportsmanlike way to get possum. The correct thing is to skin up the tree and shake the possum out.

Potosi has become a stream shipping point, though in a small way as yet. The shipments are consigned to St. Louis. With improved roads and truck transportation, there is no reason why this section within ten or fifteen miles of shipping points may not return to dairying with profit.
Del Longrears has tendered his resignation to J. C. Hughes, state bank commissioner, as special deputy commissioner in charge of the People's Bank. Mr. Longrears and family expect to leave next week for Mississippi where he will be assigned as pastor of a church.—Bismarck Gazette.

The Pioneer Cooperative Company is, we understand, building quite a town on the site, about six miles southwest of Bellevue, where they propose operating their stove factory. A dozen or more houses have been built in the neighborhood of the Lambert farm. Active operations will probably begin soon.—Ironton Register.

Mr. H. F. Compton of Shirley was in to see us Saturday and pay the printer. He is assured now that with care his recovery will be complete.

Arvon Patterson, 16, and Albert Pinkston, 14, who lived in the Turkey school district over in St. Francois County, had such aversion to attending school that they burned the school house down one night last week. Sam Doss, the terror to criminals over there, began an investigation of the matter, with the result that the boys were landed in jail at Farmington last Thursday.

The school house here caught fire last Wednesday forenoon from a defective flue. The blaze was confined to a small space in the attic and extinguished by Prof. Lake and some of the larger boys. This is the second or third time the building has been threatened with destruction from this source, and unless the flue is made positively safe, it may yet bring upon us a heavy tax levy for a new school building. A stitch in time, you know.

A still with a daily capacity of 500 gallons of "licker" was captured by Sheriff Brady and deputies Frank and Carl Clark last Monday night near Imperial, in the northern part of Jefferson County. The still was found on Paul Mule's farm, and he and Louis Reis and Louis Kirchofer are in jail at Millersburg charged with operating the same. Men who ought to know say this still was the biggest and most complete and expensive yet found outside of a regular distillery. A cellar under Mule's house was full of mash. Maybe if these fellows had not been molested for a few weeks the price of whiskey would have come back to normalcy.—De Soto Press.

The newlyweds have been at home at Barryman since November 1st, where the groom is associated with his father in the operation of a large farm and a store. We extend them our best wishes for a long and happy life.

Mr. James E. Farrell, a life-long resident of this county, died at an early hour last Saturday morning, November 6th, at the home of his son, Jas. F. Farrell, of Potosi, with whom he had resided for the past two years. He was 66 years of age. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon and was largely attended by friends of the family. Services were held at St. James' Church and the body was interred in the Catholic cemetery. The above-mentioned son is his only immediate relative surviving. Mr. Farrell, previous to coming to Potosi, was a farmer in Liberty Township. He was a good citizen and kindly man, whose friendship was valued by all who knew him. The family has our sympathy.

I am the Country Newspaper.
I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends; I speak to the home in the evening light of summer's vine-clad porch or the glow of winter's lamp.
I help make the evening hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the days and weeks that go to make up life.
I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take to the thrill of old days with wholesome messages.
I speak the language of the common man; my words are fitted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in my town; my readers are more than those in school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, instruction, inspiration, entertainment, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of birth, love and death—the three great facts of a man's existence.
I bring together the buyer and seller, to the benefit of both; I am part of the market-places of the world. Into the home I carry word of the goods which feed and clothe and shelter, and which minister to comfort, ease, health and happiness.
I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation.
I am the exponent of the lives of my readers.

THE PRINTER WAS FEEVED.
A Fort Worth, Tex., printer got slightly peeved at a letter from a doctor who wanted him to send several thousand letters, different sizes, different grades and different colors, and wanted the printing form left standing, so he took his typewriter in hand and wrote: "Am in the market for bids on one operation for appendicitis. One, two or five inch incision—with or without ether—also with or without nurse. If appendix is found sound, want quotations to include putting back same and canceling order. If removed, successful bidder is to keep incision open for sixty days, as I expect to be in the market for gallstones at that time and want to save the extra cost of cutting."

CASKET SEIZED FOR DEBT
Detroit Constables Remove Corpse When Undertaker Can't Get $500 Fee.
Detroit, Mich.—Funeral services for Mrs. Vincent Drizguski were interrupted by two constables who removed the body from the casket to satisfy a writ of replevin.
Stanley A. Lappo, undertaker, said he went to the home and asked the husband to give him a note for $500 in payment for funeral expenses.
Drizguski chased him from the house with a gun, Lappo says.
Constables acting on a writ of replevin issued to Lappo by Justice John M. McKinley went to the house to serve it.
The body was placed on a couch. The casket and rug were taken from the house.

Buenos Aires Wars on Disease.
Buenos Aires—Sunrise every morning finds Buenos Aires, in the downtown section in particular, fresh-washed, clean as a Dutch housewife's doorstep and smelling like a hospital. This is a result of the thorough washing given all the streets every night and the liberal doses of disinfectant that are spread about in order to check communicable diseases.
